

Attention Pet Lovers

The great debate over allowing pets in condominiums in the state of Florida is finally coming to a head. Pet owners are uniting to help the many animals, who are tragically being euthanized, and their owners, who are being forced to give them up, because of the unfair "no pet rules", prevalent in most Florida condos at this time. State Representative Julio Robaina is looking into some state-wide legislation, geared to alleviate this horrendous problem. Whether you live in a condo, own your own home, or just love animals, it is important for you to take action. Help us to fight for better laws governing the state of Florida, and give the many deserving animals a safe and secure home.

A quick phone-call to Representative Robaina's office urging him to sponsor the "pets in condos" legislation, in the next session would also help.
